Background Discussion

This award is to recognize that person who has contributed significantly to the Intelligent Transportation Systems (ITS) community during the calendar year. The person nominated should be noted for contributing to the ITS mission/goals of ITSFL.

The criteria for this award include: (1) the person has contributed to the ITS mission; (2) the person has been instrumental in project management, project completion, project planning, development of planning, financial, or other strategies; and (3) the person has had a key role in some significant program or project, which may include activities of ITS Florida itself.

Vishal Kakkad was the recipient of the 2016 ITS Professional of the Year award presented by ITS Florida.
