RE: Recommendation for Designation of a Historic Structure on the Florida Master Site File

Dear Dr. Smith:

Whitehead Construction, Inc. is submitting a Historical Structure Form for two structures located at 12504 Cortez Road West in Cortez, Florida, to be listed on the Master Site File. These buildings were constructed in the 1920's decade, and incorporate characteristics that are similar to other historical buildings within Cortez Village.

This letter is in support of their application. It is this Board's intent to preserve these homes and maintain the character of Cortez Village as a historic fishing village of old Florida. Historic designation is necessary to fulfill Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) requirements and approval for partial elevation of the house. According to the FEMA code (414CFR 59.1), these structures, if considered new construction or non-historic, would be required to be elevated approximately 12 feet above grade. This requirement to elevate the structures would not be in keeping with the quaint characteristics of the fishing village. If the historic designation is approved, the applicant would be allowed to obtain a variance to build at a height more characteristic and in keeping with the current historic structures in Cortez Village.

We urge you to approve this application and to help preserve these historic structures and maintain the characteristics of Cortez Village.

Sincerely,

Ellen H. Bell, Chairman
Manatee County Historic Preservation Board

relocated to 12504 Cortez Road in October, 2002. Upon designation of the structure and recommendation to the Florida Division Historic Resources (FDHR) for placement on the Florida Master Site File, the applicant will be resubmitting a second application for approval to relocate this structure to 4524 123rd Street West in Cortez Cortez and to renovate to its original condition.

Characteristics of the one-story structure include a framed vernicular style and a 'U' shaped exterior plan. The structure is constructed with concrete block, a pier foundation and novelty siding and 5V crimp sheet metal gable roof. Exterior ornaments include a latticed gable vent and open tailed rafters.

Structure #2 - 306 Bay Drive South, Bradenton Beach

This structure, originally located at 306 Bay Drive South in Bradenton Beach, was also built as a Florida Cracker style house in the 1920's decade and was used as a single family residence until it was temporarily relocated to ~~12406~~^{12504 (215)} Cortez Road in October, 2002. Upon designation of the structure and recommendation to the Florida Division of Historic Resources (FDHR) for placement on the Florida Master Site File, the applicant will be resubmitting a second application for approval to relocate this structure to 4528 123rd Street West in Cortez Village and to renovate to its original condition.

Characteristics of the one-story structure include a framed vernicular style and a square shaped exterior plan. The structure is constructed with concrete block, a pier foundation and novelty siding and 5V crimp sheet metal gable roof.. Exterior ornaments include a latticed gable vent and open tailed rafters.

According to the FDHR, a structure is eligible for designation on the Florida Master Site File if built more than 50 years ago. Because both structures were built approximately 70 years ago, this requirement is met.
